No Longer be Interrupted as Dawn Break

With clear and large top tier glass windows, the homeowner had a daily challenge of being woken up too early by bright daybreak sunlight. Even with thick black-out curtains for her lower tier panels, light floods into her bedroom, making the curtains redundant.

In order to solve this matter, we recommended LLumar NRMMPS2 Matte Black. This unique film type offers 100% blockage of light with total solar energy rejection at over 70%, making the rooms much cooler at the same time.

After installation and with the black-out curtains closed, the homeowner finally achieved pitch dark bedrooms. Owner is pleasantly satisfied and joked that they can now finally sleep uninterrupted and to their heart's content.
